Garma is an Alcohol & Drug Free Event
Garma has become something very real and it is again a great pleasure to have many friends and guests on our land, living amongst us. The land where Garma is held is Gulkula and this land is one of the central points of the Yolngu world. It is where Ganbulabula led famous ceremonies and created much of importance that remains in the Yolngu world.

Many things happened at the ceremonies held in our eternal time-place wangarr that remain relevant to us today - grievances were voiced, disputes were healed, young men and women were instructed in higher learning and - above all - leadership was shown. Leadership that told Yolngu people to look up to the future and to look for the possibility of a future that is different from the past.

Today, we hold to this guideline and you are all part of it. Garma has become a place where both Yolngu and non-Yolngu are guided by the activities and vision set down in the past - a desire to mix together, to learn from each other and make the world a better place.

My welcome to you is not a place for political talk - I leave that to the Forum and the bunggul ground. But amidst us always at Garma is the politics of the day. This year let us again look to what politicians call the art-of-the-possible. But let us take that job from them where we can and make it our own. And please don’t let Garma be just a few days where you take this challenge; make Garma the first step in a contribution that each one of you can give to the Yolngu world, whether in the Northern Territory or Victoria or Queensland or wherever you may live.

DHUPUMA COLLEGE 1972 - 1979
LOOKING UP TO THE FUTURE AGAIN!

Dhupuma College was a transitional boarding school facility which once stood on the timber mill site you have travelled past to get to Gulkula. The Yothu Yindi Foundation is currently in the process of working to return a facility to this very Gulkula site. This has been a process that has taken a great deal of time, effort & persistence to ensure the vision of the elders long past before us remains a focal point. Today we are working with government to ensure the idea of Dhupuma - of looking up to the future - remains relevant in today’s world. Its a vision of a Yolngu child having the best of both worlds: language, culture, education and meaningful employment. Living in two worlds and being happy with their place in life.
This year’s Garma marks an important stage in the life of our event. Now recognised as one of the world’s top cultural and political events Garma finds itself at the interface of the Indigenous and non-Indigenous worlds in Australia.

The idea of Garma as “our Davos” as one of our leaders pronounced it last year is a sentiment that is now real, as the extraordinary range of events and speakers attests. It is at Garma that the best and the brightest, the toughest and most resilient, the keenest and the sharpest from the Indigenous world gather to share knowledge, learning and build their thinking. For four days Garma is a space where people can talk and think and share their ideas and their knowledge; build relationships, forge alliances and make friends. Elected leaders come for the opportunity not just to speak but to listen and to learn - it is just as the two Yunupingu brothers envisaged it: a place where saltwater and freshwater mix and create something valuable for a collective future.

But Garma is also the space for the everywoman and everyman of the Aboriginal world. The bunggul has taken on a significance of its own: for example, last year the Gumatj and Madarrpa clans came together in an extraordinary ceremonial display; the year before ceremonies not seen publicly since 1963 were performed; this year the Dhalwangu clan will take the lead, in line with its mari gutharra relationship with the landowners, the Gumatj. Every ceremony is a part of the fabric of Yolngu life and its energy grows annually.

And Garma is a safe place. It is a place where families can come and take a few days off from the hurly burly of often difficult lives. There is no alcohol and no drugs. Our Youth Forum is growing year by year. Cultural activities are a natural part of the day and night. Last year Yolngu families approached me to ask that they could stay a few more days, to enjoy the peace and quiet of the sacred Gulkula landscape; this year the same will happen.

We know life is difficult for our people: too difficult and too deeply beset by trauma, loss and struggle. Our time at Garma is underwritten by our knowledge that the challenges are great and our determination to make lives better must be great. But for the week of Garma we focus on what we can do for the future, how we can reset our ways so as to do better and to achieve something, not for us, but for the people in the Aboriginal world whose lives are not as they should be: as Mungurrawuy Yunupingu, the great patriarch of the Gumatj clan bid his family, we all must look up to the future.

Thank you for coming to Garma 2015. Enjoy your time with us and, please, make a commitment to yourself to give back to your hosts and their kin – whether that is an offer of your time, a gift of your knowledge, your contacts or your voice; try and think what it is that you can do to assist in the many challenges of the Aboriginal world.

This year the Yothu Yindi Foundation announces another ground breaking milestone in our journey to building opportunities for our Yolngu and non-Indigenous colleagues.
The vision of the Yothu Yindi Foundation is for Yolngu & other Indigenous Australians to have the same level of well being and life opportunities as non-Indigenous Australians.

What is it aiming to achieve?
The Yothu Yindi Foundation has identified three primary objectives to drive the achievement of its vision of financially, physically and culturally sustainable Indigenous Australians, each vital for social cohesion, cultural identity, community development and maximised economic development. These objectives are to:

- provide contemporary environments and programs to practice, preserve, maintain and present traditional knowledge systems, cultural traditions and cultural practices (such as traditional dance (bunggul), song (manikay), art (miny’tji) and ceremony);
- develop economic opportunities for Yolngu through education, training, employment, enterprise and personal and community development, including community leadership development; and to
- facilitate the sharing of knowledge and culture, thereby fostering a greater understanding between Indigenous and non-Indigenous Australians.

How is it going to do that?
Yothu Yindi Foundation is focusing on three programs as the key vehicles to achieving the stated objectives. These programs underpin the maintenance and sustainable improvement of the social, cultural and economic well being of Yolngu and other Indigenous Australians:

1. The Education Hub (Dhupuma College and Garma Institute)
- Aim: Developing individuals and communities through education, training and enterprise.
- Description: Currently, the Garma Institute forms a crucial part of Garma through formal presentations (e.g. Key Forum and Youth Forum) and informal communications, discussions and networking. Moving forward, Yothu Yindi Foundation will create a broader Education Hub, providing 3 core groups of activities:
  - PHASE 1: Garma Institute: a culturally focused ‘bush university’ with conference, tourism and community facilities and learning in partnership with a tertiary education institute.
  - PHASE 2: Dhupuma College: school support and coordination – co-curricular, boarding and transitional schooling support;
  - PHASE 3: Dhupuma College: VET and adult pathways – vocational and foundation training, job placement, coordination of regional youth opportunities; and

2. The annual Garma Festival of Traditional Culture (Garma)
- Aim: Reconciliation, education and understanding through sharing of culture and traditional practice; promoting and highlighting Yolngu culture, and creating economic opportunities beneficial to Northeast Arnhem Land.
- Description: This is Australia’s leading Indigenous cultural exchange event and a national hub for major forums with discussion, policy and action formulation, and bringing together Indigenous and non-Indigenous Australians through youth forums, art gallery, music, film, song, dance and expo.

THE REGION

The Arnhem Land Region is one of the five regions of the Northern Territory of Australia. It is located in the north-eastern corner of the territory and is around 500 km from the capital Darwin. This vast tract of nearly 100,000 sq km of Aboriginal owned land is one of Australia’s last strongholds of traditional Aboriginal culture. The Aboriginal people of Northeast Arnhem Land the Yolngu today live a unique lifestyle blending western technology with a richly retained and strong cultural focus.

Yolngu have lived in the region for at least 50 thousand years with recognised land and marine estates. Clans live throughout Arnhem Land much like they always have, hunting fish, bush animals and seasonal bush foods. Today, the Yolngu culture has survived years of pressure to reform to a western lifestyle and English is largely a second language, with ‘Yolngu Matha’ being the first language of choice in Yolngu homes.

Northeast Arnhem Land (including the Gove Peninsula) is part of the Arnhem Land Aboriginal Land Trust, and is held under inalienable freehold title by the Aboriginal traditional owners. The township of Nhulunbuy and the associated bauxite mining operation are located on lease areas.

Yirrkala is the largest Yolngu community on the peninsula some 15 km south-east of Nhulunbuy with around 800 people. Many of the Yolngu in the region live in small communities located on the traditional homelands of the various clans. The richness and diversity of culture is reflected by the large number of different clan groups and some 40 clan-languages in north-east Arnhem Land alone.

POLITICS

Since the 1960s, Yolngu leaders have been conspicuous in the struggle for Aboriginal land rights. In 1963, provoked by a unilateral government decision to excise a part of their land for a bauxite mine, Yolngu at Yirrkala sent to the Australian House of Representatives a petition on bark. The bark petitions (celebrating 50 years in 2013) attracted national and international attention and now hangs in Parliament House, Canberra as a testament to the Yolngu role in the birth of the land rights movement.

When the politicians demonstrated they would not change their minds, the Yolngu of Yirrkala took their grievances to the courts in 1971, in the case of Milirrpum v Nabalco Pty Ltd, the Gove land rights case. Yolngu lost the case because Australian courts were still bound to follow the terra nullius principle, which did not allow for the recognition of any “prior rights” to land to Indigenous people at the time of colonisation. However, the Judge did acknowledge the claimants’ ritual and economic use of the land and that they had an established system of law, paving the way for future Aboriginal Land Rights in Australia.

The song Treaty, by Yolngu band Yothu Yindi, demonstrates the dedication of Yolngu to the cause of reconciliation, land rights and a desire for broader recognition of their culture and Law.
In 1967 Mungurrawuy Yunupingu made a painting of Gulkula, his country, on bark. Gulkula is the site you are standing upon held in a stringybark forest atop an escarpment of trees. The trees on the escarpment at Gulkula are mainly of one species of stringybark referred to known as Eucalyptus tetradonta. In Yolngu culture the Grey String-barks (E. Tetradonta) have many names, one Dhuwa moiety name is Gaydaka. At night on the escarpment Gaydaka seem ‘to move in their stillness’ and in the late afternoon as the wind moves through the leaves the trees appear to dance, to communicate with each other. Trees are sung and their movement is danced in ceremony. In August Gaydaka is in flower and small native bees turn nectar into honey.

Gulkula is connected with actions of an Ancestor, Ganbulapula. In his search for honey Ganbulapula used his walking stick to hit the trees and so disturb the bees. With his hand shielding his eyes from the sun as he looked up, Ganbulapula could see the tiny black bees hovering around their hive in the hollow of a tree. He is known to look upwards to trace the flight of bees. A link is established through honey and the actions of both the Yirritja and Dhuwa moiety ancestors, with people and land and sea-country across North East Arnhem Land. The significance of bees and honey is manifested in sacred designs that identify the body of cultural knowledge associated with honey. Honey is also linked through ancestral events with fire.

In a European bid to gain knowledge, and to establish and maintain international connections and cooperation, many of the trees on the escarpment at Gulkula were bulldozed and then burnt by the Department of Works in 1964. The Gove Down Range Guidance and Telemetry Station was constructed in their place.

The Dutch telemetry receiving station 1964.

The purpose of the station was to track the path of rockets. The path has been called a ‘fire across the desert’ (see Morton 1989). The rockets were launched from Woomera in South Australia. At the time the Yolngu owners had no rights that were recognised by Europeans who were responsible for clearing large areas and burning the trees on their land at Gulkula - a theme to be repeated. Yolngu were not consulted. On and around the ceremonial ground where Ganbulapula looked up in his search for bees the European Launcher Development Organisation (ELDO) installed the rocket tracking station. As stated its purpose was to monitor the path of a rocket launched from Woomera in South Australia. At a strategic stage a satellite was designed to separate from the rocket.
Mungurrawuy Yunupingu, Gulkula, 1967. 92x60cm

Mungurrawuy’s painting shows the ceremonial ground at Gulkula (centre). Yolngu history describes how people have danced here ‘from the beginning’. At the apex of the ceremonial ground the black triangular shape is the point of the walking stick. At one level the central shape represents the digging stick. It is used to extract honey from the hive.

The planning that resulted in the felling of trees on the escarpment at Gulkula was undertaken by WRE (Weapons Research Establishment situated at Salisbury, north of Adelaide in South Australia) as part of the ELDO project. The project, which linked Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland, and Australia was designed to produce scientific information and had no military objectives. It was a collaborative effort and the information produced was intended to be public and available to other research organisations throughout the world. Galarrwuy Yunupingu, son of Mungurrawuy, describes how Gulkula already has a prior and current history of ‘collaborative effort’ and ‘collective determination’.

In that eternal time-place Wangarr, which in English we often call ‘the Dreaming’, a ceremony was held at the very place we now call Dhupuma [Gulkula], and where Garma will grow from our launching …The ceremonial manager was Ganbulapula. He was the singing man. It was a funeral ceremony and an initiation ceremony for the Matjurr people, whom we now know as fruit bats. The Damala (spirit) people and the Matjurr (spirit) people were the dancers. As a funeral, the ceremony was a grieving for the divisions of the past. Decorated log coffins in the centre of the ceremony ground were waiting to receive the bodies of the dead, lying in a shelter of leafy boughs. As initiation, it was also a ceremony looking to a new future. Initiating young men into manhood, a healing of the divisions of the past, an affirmation of a collective determination to go on together. [Yunupingu 2002]

In part “Gulkula” shows people dancing, working together, and negotiating knowledge for specific outcomes. It is the site of a collective Yolngu concept, a Garma, or public ceremony where knowledge between different cultural groups is generated and exchanged. In a contemporary sense Garma today carries on an historical tradition in an historical context. Gulkula is a significant site as it contains many layers of history alluded to by Mungurrawuy. This very bark painting was exhibited in New York in 1988.

It is rumoured that Ganbulapula at this time had done something to upset families gathered onsite and this disrupted the ceremonial activities. There was fighting and disagreement, ‘confusion and conflict’ and the ceremony began to disintegrate into a ‘hardening of past divisions, disagreements, and oppositions.’ Galarrwuy describes how on seeing this…

That old man Ganbulapula did something extraordinary. He picked up one of the painted log coffins waiting there to receive its body, saturated with cultural meanings. And he flung it. Eastwards and a little to the south. It landed in the sea; at Djalambu. And its meaning flowed outwards there…The action lifted people’s eyes from the mire of disorder, disagreement and bitter division. In that unprecedented flinging of the decorated log coffin, that unexpected ejecting of what we might call intellectual property into a new context, a new network of cultural meaning was created. The action generated the possibility of a future different from the past. [Yunupingu ibid.]

From Djalambu the hollow log was carried by water and the tides to other parts of North East Arnhem Land. The hollow log became one means by which knowledge of the events and actions of Ganbulapula at Gulkula was disseminated to other groups who were then linked through the sharing of this knowledge. These events are widely known and celebrated throughout North East Arnhem Land communities and belong to certain individual and group histories. Through the Garma Festival Yolngu families are able to provide you the opportunity to learn and share in events that document these histories.
LANGUAGE

YOLNGU MATHA - THE LANGUAGE

Yolŋu Matha means Yolŋu language. It refers to Yolŋu languages in general. There are over 40 Yolŋu languages. Most Yolŋu speak multiple Yolŋu languages.

The following explanation may help you to pronounce the words.

Vowels
There are three pairs of vowels.

BUNGGUL:

Each evening Yolngu clans gather to celebrate and connect with each other using the ancient platform of the bunggul. These public expressions of ancient ritual and knowledge unite Yolngu clans through miny’tji (art), manikay (song), and bunggul (dance). Ceremony preserves and maintains Yolngu cultural traditions and ensures they remain strong for future generations.

That this form of ceremonial expression should survive with such strength is a testament to the Yolngu people and their commitment to maintaining and preserving their culture and ways of life. It is truly a gift from Yolngu to all Australians that this precious Australian heritage continues to thrive within our modern nation.
COLOURS OF THE BUNGUL:
MAROON, BLUE, GREEN, YELLOW, RED, BLACK, WHITE, RAINBOW

SETTING: SAND, CLAPSTICKS, YIDAKI, SONGLINES, SUNSET, SENSATIONAL!
GARMA KEY FORUM

Leaders at the coal-face of Aboriginal life come together at Garma to share their thinking, knowledge and experience. Just as at a Yolngu ceremony, everyone has a role to play in the Key Forum and the outcomes can be just as dynamic.

On Aboriginal country - in a heartland of the Yolngu ceremonial world - people from all over come together to put forward their ideas, discuss those ideas, argue their points and seek to find a consensus on the way forward. At Garma it is understood that everyone has a right to speak, that there can be a fine line between agreement and disagreement and that there is a vital timelessness to dialogue and respect.

This is the concept of Garma - a place where saltwater and freshwater meet and create something special; a combination that creates life and well-being.

This year’s Key Forum is focused on voices from inside Aboriginal Australia. In the evenings the Knowledge Centre will host high-level policy speeches and presentations but during the day the themes are localised. Heath, education and family violence are all the subject of panels: homelands, land rights, youth and local success are also important parts of presentations across Saturday and Sunday.

On Saturday there are key note lectures from Mr Joe Morrison of the Northern Land Council and from Mr Kumi Naidoo who is the international head of Greenpeace.

On Sunday there is a panel made up of elected members of parliament who are all engaged in the challenges of Indigenous policy and life. A panel on Sunday afternoon will see reflections from men and women who have lived their lives in service to the Indigenous cause.

On Monday the great issue of Constitutional reform is under discussion with the key participants in the debate engaged in the national challenge of recognition.

3.00pm Garma Knowledge Centre
Final Announcements & Garma Communiqué
In the Garma Knowledge Centre auditorium final announcements will be made and special contributions will be acknowledged.
The dates and theme for Garma 2016 will also be presented.
A closing statement will be made by Yolngu elder Djunga Djunga Yunupingu

4.00pm Closing bunggul
All guests are urged to attend the final bunggul where the clan leaders will bring song-cycles to their next stage, honour the contributions of the men and women who sing the manikay, bring the yidaki to life and paint the sacred minyitj designs.
Often ‘missed’ by guests, the bunggul is the Yolngu equivalent to the Key forum where Yolngu express themselves, make statements, exhibit their prowess, heal rifts, manage disputes and form alliances and long-lasting bonds.

YOUTUBE.COM/THEGARMAFESTIVAL
THE YOLNGU HEROES AWARD RECOGNISES THE SIGNIFICANT ACHIEVEMENTS OF MANY INDIVIDUALS CONTRIBUTING TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF THEIR COMMUNITY, TO THE SAFETY AND WELL BEING OF THOSE LIVING DAILY WITH MULTIPLE CHALLENGES, AND IN GENERAL THOSE PEOPLE THAT WE ALL KNOW AND ADMIRE FOR THEIR DETERMINATION AND MENTORSHIP.

THESE NOMINATIONS HAVE ORIGINATED FROM MEMBERS OF THE PUBLIC, AND THEIR RECOMMENDATIONS HAVE BEEN FULLY SUPPORTED BY THE YOTHU YINDI FOUNDATION AND OUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

WE SHARE WITH YOU FOUR INDIVIDUALS WHO HAVE BEEN THE BACKBONE OF THIS REGION. IT IS WITH GREAT DELIGHT THAT WE ANNOUNCE THE OFFICIAL GARMA 2015 YOLNGU HEROES.

Mr. Wali Wununggmurra

A signatory to the 1963 Yirrkala Bark Petition Mr Wali Wulanybuma Wununggmurra is one of the greatest of modern Yolngu leaders. As well as displaying his own style as an advocate Mr Wununggmurra has been a trusted confidant of many Yolngu and non-Yolngu leaders who have for many years turned to him for guidance, advice and wise counsel. Born of the Dhalwangu clan he is a ceremonial leader of high degree and a man of fierce loyalty and vision for his people.

As a young man Mr Wununggmurra attended Methodist Bible College in Brisbane and became an educator and a teacher at Yirrkala. He was a bridge between two worlds for young Yolngu people and provided a pathway for many who have gone on to play their role in the life of the nation.

With an independent mind and a willingness to listen Mr Wununggmurra has served with distinction as the Chairman of Laynhapuy Homelands, the Yambirrpa School Council and from 2007 to 2013 the Northern Land Council.

His homeland is Gurrumurru and his special totem is wurran, the diving cormorant. He is the 2015 Garma Yolngu Hero.

Leading by example

- Signatory of the Yirrkala Bark Petition
- Gove Land Rights Case
- Yirrkala Village Council
- Laynhapuy Homelands
- Blue Mud Bay Sea Rights Claim
- NLC Chair 6 years. Member 20 years
Ms. Joan Djamalaka Dhamarrandji

Joan Djamalaka Dhamarrandji is a senior Yolngu Elder in Galiwin’ku, Elcho Island. She is the Manager of the Miwatj Health Nalkangbuy Mental Health Team & a strong advocate for access to community-controlled, best-practice mental health services in remote communities. Djamalaka commenced work as a registered Enrolled Nurse in the Gove District Hospital in Nhulunbuy in 1979. She was the first Yolngu nurse to work in the hospital and the first clinician to be able to talk with patients in their own language. In 1981 Djamalaka returned to her native home in Galiwin’ku and commenced work at the Nalkangbuy clinic on Elcho Island. There she has taken a broad approach to elements of the clinic program. In 1996 Djamalaka took on the management of the Galiwinku mental health team, delivering its emotional & social well being program, managing duties above and beyond her call of duty. Joan is a very active member of the Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists, being a member of the Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Committee since 1996. She is called upon regularly to attend and present at various College’s conferences, both national and internationally. In 2015 Djamalaka was recognised for her leadership and managerial experience within Miwatj Health and was promoted to a partnership clinic manager position at Miwatj Nalkangbuy clinic. She has won several accolades, including the Miwatj Health Director of Public Health Award.

Ms. Rarriwuy Marika

Rarriwuy is an ex-Dhupuma College student, Rarriwuy was one of the first Yolngu educators to obtain a teaching diploma. This extraordinary woman is the founder of the Literacy Production Centre within the Yirrkala School and has been at the forefront of bilingual education since the 80’s. Grandmother to 12, Mother of 3, sister to 10. - Rarriwuy is also an acclaimed artist whose work has been exhibited in collections nationally and internationally. Kind and generous to all, Rarriwuy has literally raised scores of children in her neighbourhood. She has been an Artist in Residence at Trinity College at the University of Melbourne. She has given guest lectures ranging from fine arts to linguistics and politics. In her leisure time Rarriwuy’s creative talents extend into her garden and she is often found tending to her favourite plants. Rarriwuy is a great role model - there is not a time when she hasn’t held a responsible position of employment and day-in day-out she is called upon to tend to the needs of her family and the wider community. Consistent and solid - Rarriwuy, we thank you for your ongoing and tireless contribution to our lives. You are a true Yolngu Hero.

Ms. Dana Yunupingu

This dynamic young woman is the Retail Manager at the Gopu community store. Dana is a mother and full time employee. She has firmly grasped her position of responsibility and has shown great flair for many of the aspects of managing a place that is now identified as being a central gathering point within the Gunyangara community. Dana is responsible for operating the Gopu store on a daily basis, she manages staff orders, the stores finances and staffing time sheets. She has been identified as a leader from within the community, and if ever you have a chance to visit the store you’ll be greeted with her friendly smile. A stand out attribute of Dana’s personality is her willingness to accept increased responsibility. She has great capacity to adapt to matters newly introduced within her immediate workplace. Dana has been in her role since July of 2013 when the store was first opened, and we hope to see Dana continue to strive in her position for years to come.
Barrata Marika

My great great grandfather was Mungurrawuy Yunupingu. Mungurrawuy Yunupingu's son Yumunu#1 was my mother’s father. My mother’s mother was Djandi Gurruwiwi. My mother was Gunanu Yunupingu.

From my early childhood memories I think of my grandfather’s sister (Gaymala Yunupingu) and I remember watching her painting Djilawurr (bush chook) and octopus and stingray. She had a painting of Djilawurr on her front door at Gunyangara. Gaymala would love to have me stay on the weekends and also after school, and we would go hunting together. Also I remember my grandmother (Djandi Gurruwiwi) making pandanus fibre basket and mats - she was a real expert at this. I helped her collect pandanus and the bush colours for dyeing the Gunga (pandanemas).

Djirrirra Wunungmurra

Djirrirra (also known as Yukuwa) assisted her father, Yanggarriny Wunungmurra (1932-2003), in his Telstra Award winning painting of 1997 and continually up until his death in 2003. She has also assisted her brother Nawurapu Wunungmurra, but now primarily paints her own works. Her father granted her this authority whilst he was alive.

Her precise hand and geometric style has increasingly attracted enthusiastic interest from the art world. As she came to the notice of Buku-Larrnggay co-ordinators for her exquisite hand and innovative composition she was included in her first major exhibition and her first visit to the world outside of Arnhem Land, in a show at Raft Artspace in Darwin in 2006 which featured her and two other Gangan artists, Yumutjin Wunungmurra and Waturr Gumana.
Nyapanyapa Yunupingu

Nyapanyapa is quite remarkable. She is perhaps the artist of the region most remote from the market she creates for. In this sense her art is really quite pure for it is without any consideration or desire to understand what happens beyond point of sale to her art centre. Through a building interest in her work these things may change.

She is a widow, a wife of the late Djapu clan leader Djiriny Mununggurr who died in 1977. Her early life was spent with her father Munggurrawuy Yunupingu a renowned artist and father of two Australians of the Year (Her brothers Galarrwuy and Mandawuy). She is a ceremonial woman and a battler without material possession. She is a classificatory sister to star artist Gulumbu and travelled once to Adelaide for the 2005 Festival with her kin for a critically acclaimed crying performance in honour of her deceased sister and senior artist Gaymala.

Djakangu Yunupingu

Djakangu’s English name is Dorothy. She is a gifted artist and a much loved resident of the local community. Father was Mungurrawuy Yunupingu. Among his other children are former Northern Land Council chairman Galarrwuy, Yothu Yindi lead singer Dr. Yunupingu, 2004 Telstra Aboriginal Art Award first prize winner the late Ms. Yunupingu, and many more. Djakanngu is married to well known yidaki (didjeridu) maker Badikupa Gurruwiwi.

Ruby Djikarra Alderton

I am the daughter of Banduk Marika and the grand daughter of Mawalan Marika (1). There has always been a lot of influence from this side of the family when it comes to art, especially as most of the family are or have been known for their traditional art. I grew up outside of this community in Darwin and in Newcastle so I’ve also had a lot of western influence. I enjoy working with my mother painting and helping her with her prints. It’s only been fairly recent that I started doing my own works.

Ruby Alderton is the youngest daughter of award winning artist Banduk Marika. At just 18 she is developing her strong talent for printmaking and has recently begun painting on bark. She was chosen to curate the exhibition Three in company with Jenny Fraser and Shauna Tilmouth at the Chan Contemporary Art Space in July 2012. In the same year she was chosen as a finalist in both the Telstra NATSIAA and Print Council Awards.
From ages 8 to 18, the Garma Youth Forum is Gulkula’s hot spot of exciting activities.

So tear on over to the Youth Forum to engage with our brightest minds, get your hands on some of our new funky digital toys and chase the fun.
This is a psychological phenomenon involving a vague & random stimulus (often an image or sound), perceived as significant to an individual. Common examples include seeing images of animals or faces in nature such as clouds or the bark of a tree.

This year’s youth forum will take a look at this fun phenomenon & we encourage all guests of Garma to look for your own pareidolia example, photograph it and submit it into the youth forum’s photo competition.

RuOK?

Great stories can make you laugh. Make you cry or feel afraid. They can also be something that inspires and gives hope. Learn the art of great storytelling and inspire your friends to believe in a better world by joining the R U OK? workshop. We’ll give you interview and filming techniques; help you ask the hard questions; and produce content that inspires your mates to join a movement dedicated to creating a more connected world.

Questacon

All the way from Canberra, Questacon –The National Science and Technology Centre will be presenting science and technology activities and exciting hands-on workshops that will explore the innovation process. Each of these will allow people to be creative, explore ideas, and solve challenges both individually and in teams. The activities are designed to allow each person to show their own potential.

Ninja Circus

Desert Ninja Circus is an indigenous youth circus troupe using the medium of circus and performing arts to teach indigenous youth that their power and sense of purpose comes from within. The circus school is a charitable, not-for-profit organisation based in Uluru (Ayer’s Rock) and works with kids from communities of Mutitjulu, Imanpa, and Docker River. We work alongside Nyangatjatjara College, the local education facility, to promote attendance, focus, and inspiration in the kids’ education by incorporating circus arts into the daily curriculum and by teaching practical skills in literacy and numeracy while on tour.

Indigenous Hip Hop Projects (IHHP)

IHHP is a team of talented performing artists who have been working with Indigenous communities around Australia since 2005. IHHP gives people and their communities a voice to let their issues be heard while empowering them to find their own solutions. As part of the Garma Youth Forum, IHHP will deliver hip hop workshops, working with participants to write and produce a music video.

Garma Music Workshops

The Yothu Yindi Foundation would like to thank our musical performers that will be providing the evenings entertainment over the course of our four day event. As part of our collaborative approach, all Garma musicians will be working with the participants of the Youth Forum to write a song for 2015.

FaceTime Family Booth

Miss your family back home? Want to talk about your Garma experience with friends in another state or country? The FaceTime Family Booth is available to connect you online via video with family and friends. Just ask the friendliest Garma Crew member close by to give you a hand.
On Sunday 2nd and Monday 3rd of August, the Yothu Yindi Foundation provides you with multi layers of choice. Over the course of the last two days of Garma, Yolngu families will be waiting for your company to share in a multitude of cultural activities. Some will appeal to the ladies, some to the men. We invite the youths to also find their way over to learn from their elders as we all try our hand at a range of cultural knowledge. Get tongue tied at the yolngu matha language classes, or some healing with Djalu. See you bunggul side and make your way around the grounds to sample some of these hands-on projects.

TIME: 9AM - 3:30PM
Our musical line up this year reminds us to look to the unique talents of our local neighbourhood. From the Territory we have unearthed some of the most exciting local acts, born and bred in our own backyard. We have invited our very own homebred artists such as the KK Band, Next Generation and the local Garrangali band from Yilpara. We’ve collected some young and inspirational new artists searching for the pathway to fame. So look out for the large voice of our Zimbabwean visitors and of course Darwin’s own young and emerging stars. Garma brings you an eclectic package of pulsating, live sound and song as we stimulate your senses to present a highlight of exciting, young, new and emerging artists.

We’re busting out the big guns live on the ceremonial grounds of Gulkula. Pull up a chair on the sand or hit the dance floor with gusto. We are thrilled to provide our guests with four nights of live musical performance you won’t forget.

Emma Donovan & The Putbacks

Acclaimed indigenous vocalist Emma Donovan and Melbourne rhythm combo The Putbacks come together to bring you Dawn, an LP of hard hitting and heartfelt soul songs telling stories of grief, struggle and redemption. Dawn is a gritty, uniquely Australian record, simultaneously classic and contemporary. The songwriting is in turns optimistic, angry and melancholic, and on occasions bruisingly honest. The music is fluid, live and raw, and the electric connection between Emma and the band comes through in every beat.
Bārra Band

Bārra - West Wind, (pronounced bahr-ra) are a Yolngu super group from NE Arnhem Land and affiliated with the Galpu clan. The band creates authentic and dancey Arnhem Land music, an eclectic and inspiring mix of cruisy reggae, lively ska, RnB, gospel and traditional music. These boys are the real thing, at home on stage and in the studio creating original songs and new renditions of traditional songs in their own language. They have created a strong local fan base with a residency at the Arnhem Club in Nhulunbuy and a recent tour that covered communities and islands in the North, East, West and South of Arnhem Land and also Darwin, Batchelor and Mataranka. They are also growing quickly in the festival scene with recent shows at WOMADElaide since their inaugural festival performance at Garma last year as an emerging act. The band boasts at least 5 lead singers at any one show, each with their own songs, including Larrjannga, Marimunuk, Minyapa and Guyundu Gurrwiwi and features Māwul Dhamarandji and Krazy Jay. Swapping instruments through their dynamic show, the band will take you on an unforgettable journey through modern Arnhem Land.

Jaxon De Santis

Darwin’s own much loved Indigenous performer, Jaxon has followed his musical passion since his teens when he picked up his first guitar. An electrician by trade, Jaxon still manages to find the time writing his own lyrics and creating his own beats. After being a comfortable performer with other Territory bands, theatre productions and plays Jaxon recently added to his achievements by becoming a member of a new NT band At The Dakota.

Jaxon brings to his first ever Garma performance himself and a trusty acoustic guitar where he’ll take his audience on a roller coaster ride of entertainment. Jaxon has been likened to the sounds of Ben Howard, Jack Johnson, and Rob Thomas. Let’s get behind Jaxon & support his vision for what we expect will be a very promising career.

Garrangali Band

From the Land to the Sea - Garrangali Band are a saltwater reggae band from Yilpara, Northern Territory.

Steeped in timeless songs and dance from their ancestral home the music brings to our hearts a distant time.

With their sound moving towards more recent history and events, shaping their community’s lives - Garrangali Band a Voice of the Sea Country.
Eazy Five
Eazy five- Young new talent – locally grown, Arnhem Land inspired. These talented musicians will have you up and dancing with their original blend of Reggae, Hip-Hop/Rock fusion. With many gigs under their belt, community shows and the Arnhem Club they are well rehearsed to playing to a crowd. Eazy Five have had a fresh sound and are currently working on recording their first EP. Young band members are - Marshall Gambley – acoustic and vocals/songwriter, Didiwarr Wungumurra on electric guitar, Bass player Murphy Marika and Dimathaya Burarrwanga on drums/songwriter, James Burarrwanga – rhythm guitar and Dutchy Mununggurr.

Yirrmal & the Yolngu Boys
New gen Indigenous Australian artists Yirrmal and the Yolngu Boys, from North-East Arnhem Land, are making a refreshing entrance into the music scene. Yirrmal Marika, who fronts the group, is an aspiring songwriter and guitarist with a beautiful voice; singing Yolngu pop songs about his homeland and culture with feeling and depth beyond his years. The Yolngu Boys – Dion Wunungmurra, Jerol Wunungmurra and Mabo Mununggurritj and Raven Marika - have extensive knowledge of ceremonial “Manikay” songs, and are excellent singers, dancers and didg players. Together, Yirrmal and the Yolngu Boys are connecting a new found sound and engaging the hearts of all who are lucky enough to hear them.

Next Generation
Next Generation is a band from Yurrwi (Millingimbi), with their own unique blend of yolngu reggae, gospel and country. Proudly following in the footsteps of the Djati Brothers and Willinga Band they are claiming to be the new future for Gupapuyngu music. Their music includes new versions of ancient songlines from the Gupapuyngu and Djambarrpuynugu people using keyboard, bass, electric guitar, and drums, 2 vocals. Band members are Tristan, Ralph, Chris, Julius and Sebastion.

Neil Murray
Neil Murray first appeared in the early eighties as a founding member of the Warumpi Band which pioneered contemporary indigenous music into mainstream Australia, yielding such iconic songs as Blackfella Whitefella and My Island Home- which in 1995 was awarded the APRA song of the year. My Island Home has become an unofficial anthem and was featured in the Sydney 2000 Olympics.
Neil has enjoyed a solo career since 1989, releasing a string of albums to become one of Australia’s finest and most influential singer/songwriters with classic songs like Good Light in Broome, Native Born and Long Grass Band. He performs at festivals around Australia and overseas and will release a new album in 2015.

Sol Nation
Take a large melting pot, fill it half way with Reggae, add a dash of East Timorese folk song, a punch of Cuban Salsa, a sprinkle of Latin dance, 3 parts Afro-Beat, 2 parts tropical island rhythm, a sprinkle of Brazilian Samba, fill with funk and stir. Let it settle and taste...Sol Nation! INFECTIOUS rhythm, worldly lyrics and impassioned musicianship are just the beginning for any Sol Nation performance. From Dili to Cairns, Lisbon to Rio, Sol Nation draws upon a wealth of international musical culture to bring you a melting pot of Reggae, Samba, Funk, Salsa, East Timorese folksong and African dance music.
KK Band

aka Karrkad Kanjdji are a new Arnhem Land rock band whose name and reputation is growing like wildfire. Hailing from Maningrida Community in one of the most remote parts of Northern Australia, they are emerging onto the Indigenous music scene with a huge presence. Over the past few years they’ve played gigs locally including a breakthrough performance at Maningrida’s ‘Lurra Festival’. Here they officially solidified their place as the next generation of talent from this well known musical region following and under the guidance of their predecessors footsteps such as Sunrise Band, Letterstick Band and their own immediate family members; the famous Narbarlek Band. Now with a strong, developed, distinctive sound they are gathering a reputation as one of the most anticipated powerful and hard hitting young acts on the NT scene.

Tjintu Desert Band

Singing in the Aboriginal language of Luritja, Tjintu Desert Band (pronounced Jin-Too) combine funk, rock, reggae and dub grooves to create a distinct desert sound that simultaneously captures its wide-open spaces, its brutal beauty and its formidable darkness. Large and powerful tribal choruses combine with roots and rock influences - featuring Spanish inspired acoustic guitar, rock reggae electric riffs and all supported by a consistent moving dub bass.

Warren H Williams

Born at the remote community of Hermannsburg, 120kms west of Alice Springs, Warren is one of the biggest Indigenous names in the Australian country music scene.

His recent ventures illustrate his evolving talents: in 2007 he premiered his first musical ‘The Magic Coolamon’ and in 2008 a country music television show ‘Pmarra Country’, on NITV. Warren was the 2012 ‘Red Ochre Award’ winner at the National Indigenous Arts Awards and has been inducted into the Hands Of Fame at Tamworth.

Black Smoke

This is something special, and bound to grab the attention of those in the know. Emily Wurrumara is a young woman who has been writing songs since she was 6. Singing in both English and Anindilyakwa, the traditional language of her home, Groote Eylandt in the Northern Territory, Emily is both a prolific song-writer and multi-instrumentalist, playing Guitar, keyboard and ukulele. Joined by Garawa / Mununjali / Badjtala cultural performer, Yarum Sandy, on didgeridoo and tapsticks, who also sings in traditional language and is currently going through training to be the next song man and the beautiful Papua New Guinean princess, Saraima Navara on guitar and vocals, they are Black Smoke.
CINEMA

Created by the best new filmmakers from the world’s oldest living culture, this ground breaking collection of shorts draws on ancient traditions known as songlines. The films speak of the creation of life and the law that binds us to our country. It is also a story of regenerating contemporary identity that flows from deep time into the present and beyond.

Meet Sylvia Nulpindij (director Bulunu Milkarrri) and other filmmakers and commissioners in this special presentation, in partnership with Screen Australia’s Indigenous Branch and NITV. This is a must see part of your Garma experience.
Footprints
Director: Cornel Ozies
Producer: Eloise Schnierer
Duration: 10 mins
It’s 2014 and a group of young Aboriginal men from a tribe on the verge of cultural extinction have just discovered that a law boss from a neighbouring tribe knows some of their cultural songs and dances. They have not been performed for more than 50 years and it was thought they had been lost forever. The songs and dances were given to the men’s tribe, the Djugun tribe, by their creator during the Buguragarri (the Dreamtime).

Naji
Director: Kimberly West
Producer: Jodie Bell
Duration: 9 mins
Naji is a story from the Bugarregarre time, the dreamtime. The spirit beings came out of the ocean and woke up the silent, barren land as they moved from Dabberdabbergun in the West to the land of the rising sun, creating life and importantly, water, as they travel. This creation story comes to life through the use of re-enactments as Richard Hunter, an elder of the Goolarabooloo people recounts the steps of his first people.

Mother’s Day
Saturday Screening Only
Director: Paul Bell
Producer: Brendan Fletcher, Gilliam Gortham
Duration: 52 mins
This epic documentary shot over two years explores the life of Ronno Morgan who as a four year old Aboriginal boy in the remote Kimberley, had severe kidney failure. But his mother Maria donated her kidney and saved his life. 25 yrs later, Ronno is a father himself. But he is shocked to learn that mothers kidney is now failing and his life is threatened.

Goorrandalng: Brolga Dreaming
Director: Ju Ju Wilson
Producer: Robyn Marais
Duration: 10 mins
Goorrandalng is a song and a story. The Goorrandalng song is about brolgas. It’s from Granny Sheba Dignari’s mother and is sung all the time for country, keeping it strong. Goorrandalng is also the name of the dreaming place, at Keep River National Park in the Northern Territory, where women can go to become pregnant. In the Goorrandalng dreamtime story, women went to the special place and turned into brolgas.

Wurray
Director: Keith Lapulung Dhamarrandji
Producer: Paul Williams
Duration: 12 mins
Yolngu song men trace the epic dreamtime story of their great nomadic warrior, Wurray, across the Wilderness of North East Arnhemland.

Bulunu Milkarri
Director: Sylvia Nulpinditj
Producer: Gaia Osborne, Keith Djiniyini Dhamarrandji
Duration: 25 mins
“One woman’s journey to learn an endangered songline from remote Arnhem Land that explores cycles of death, life, rain, tears and the replenishment and abundance of land, sea and spirit and the quest to ensure this ancient songline is practiced for generations to come.”

ACROSS THE GARMA GROUNDS
TRAJECTORIES OF INNOVATION IN YOLNGU ART: 1940s TO NOW
SUNDAY 6PM, GARMA KNOWLEDGE CENTRE

Judith Ryan, Senior Curator of Indigenous Art, National Gallery of Victoria, Melbourne. Will discuss her introduction to Aboriginal art 38 years ago when she commenced at the National Gallery of Victoria and began visiting Jim Davidson’s Aboriginal and Pacific Gallery around the corner from her home. Here she saw photographs of great Yolngu artists and leaders and was able to immerse herself in works of intimate scale by Mawalan, Mathaman, Munggarrawuy, Narritjin, Birrikitji et al painted around the time of the Church Panels and the bark petition.

TAI CHI WITH JACK THOMPSON

Our Ambassador extends an open invitation to you! Jack will meet on Saturday, Sunday and Monday morning at 7:30am at the Key Forum Auditorium. This time is intended to gently start your day with some internal meditation and movement, so head over to exhale, stretch and enjoy the visual beauty of the Dhupuma escarpment.

BASKETBALL WITH THE SYDNEY KINGS

From 7:30am Saturday, Sunday and Monday mornings Matt and the lads are taking advantage of the fresh mornings at Gulkula. Head over to the bunggul grounds and make up the numbers for a game with the younger members of our event. They’ll be willing to answer questions on healthy lifestyle, diet and nutrition. Get a spring in your step, grab some water, your Nike’s, a hat and we’ll see you there!

ART WITH MATT ADNATE & CO

Matt is back again to inspire our guests with his artistic expression. Equipped with his spray gun, watch his artwork spring to colourful life. Stemming from Melbourne, Adnate’s roots stemmed from graffiti, utilizing the medium to carry his realist style into the fine art realm. If you’re looking for some wow factor, laced with colourful brush strokes - get a dose here.

BEAUTIFUL BABY COMPETITION

Requirements: Rolls, dribble, smiles & gums! In infancy itself, the 2015 Garma baby comp is the first time we’ve introduced such a concept. It’s easy to be completely overwhelmed with so much cuteness in just one spot! Mums bring your babies over to the Garma cafe at 12:00pm on Saturday. Babies up to 12 months old will be making an appearance for judging and we may need some expert opinion from our guests.

FACETIME FAMILY BOOTH

Miss your family back home? Want to talk about your Garma experience with friends in another state or country? The FaceTime Family Booth is available to connect you online via video with family and friends. Just ask the friendliest Garma Crew member close by to give you a hand.

EARLY MORNING HEALTHY ACTIVITIES

Each morning you will find some form of team exercise to begin your day. Head over to the bunggul grounds to find a way to keep active, fit and moving.

POETRY RECITALS WITH JACK THOMPSON

Jack has been busy writing new pieces of poetry for sharing around the Garma fire pits. He may call upon some emerging poets to share some of your own creations, so please join him on Friday evening.

REFLECTIONS ON THE PUBLIC LIFE OF GALARRWUY YUNUPINGU AM

Onsite you will find a rotating slide show acknowledging the contribution of the Yothu Yindi Foundations Chairman to public life & Indigenous Affairs. This is an interesting reflection upon a unique individual, and in honouring his efforts, take some time to absorb some of his feats. Available each evening.

GARMA LIBRARY

The Garma Library is fully stocked with newspaper articles, publications, books, audio, video and images of previous Garma events. Mary and Leanne will be available to assist you, so swing by Gloria’s cafe for a coffee on your way over to the library in your quest for knowledge.

ASTRONOMY WITH NIGHTSKYSECRETS

Ian Maclean of nightskysecrets.com.au will be running a stand in the expo by day to answer your questions on all things astronomy, including an insight into the world of indigenous astronomy. Ian’s team will take bookings for the evening observing sessions out on ‘the point’.

EXPO

RIO TINTO
Rio Tinto remains committed to the East Arnhem region and is working in partnership with the Northern Territory and Australian governments to support regional economic development that will benefit the community. We are also committed to the Gove Traditional Owner Agreement and the outcomes it is delivering. Increasing Yolngu training and employment and building the capability and capacity of Indigenous businesses also remain key priorities.

Gove Operations has been a proud supporter of Garma Festival over a number of years and we welcome the opportunity to provide a presence in the Garma exhibition section again this year. We are looking forward to meeting Garma guests over the course of Garma’s four days.

ASTRONOMY - NIGHT SKY SECRETS
Mr Ian “Stargaze” McLean of www.nightskysecrets.com will host yet another series of interpretive astronomy sessions.

The Arnhemland nightshow under the stars is a tremendous galaxial display upon which to view constellations up close through several strategically placed telescopes on the tip of the Dhupuma escarpment.

Covered shoes will help with the stroll to the site, provide water and bring a torch.

Numbers are strictly limited and will book out quickly. Tours are scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at both 7:15pm and 9:15pm.

Grab a friend, and make your way over to the NightSkySecret expo and make sure you’ve booked your time ahead for a simply stunning star gazing night under the Arnhem skyscape.

NORTHERN TERRITORY DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONAL SERVICES
Northern Territory Department of Correctional Services (NTDCS) strives towards a community valued correctional service that makes a positive difference in people’s lives. Key focus areas for the department as we deliver and reform our services and programs include:

- Prisoner work readiness
- Indigenous Outcomes
- Rising prisoner numbers
- Youth justice reform
- Safe workplaces

This year’s stall will showcase the ‘Sentenced to a Job Program’ which is the NTDCS commitment to assisting with prisoner’s reintegration into society and reducing the rate of re-offending through employment, education and programs. Also showcased this year will be the ‘Indigenous Language Resources’ which is a suite of educational resources that have been developed to provide explanation regarding the role of Community Corrections and the orders supervised under Community Corrections.

The resources are available in plain written English in addition to nine Indigenous languages in audio including:

Warlpiri, Kriol (Eastside), Yolngu Matha, Djamarrpuynyu, Pintupi Luritja, Central Arrernte, Western Arrarnta, Kunwinjku, Warumungu, Murrinh Patha

The Nature Conservancy’s Northern Australia program works across the tropical savanna landscape of Northern Australia, with a major focus of supporting Indigenous land and sea management. The Nature Conservancy works with local community and regional groups operating in Northern Australia to assist local planning and monitoring, demonstrate innovative conservation approaches, and develop diversified funding mechanisms including savanna burning carbon abatement and sequestration projects.

RECOGNISE
Recognise is the movement to have Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples recognised in the Australian Constitution and to ensure there is no place in it for racial discrimination.

Over 246,000 people have signed up to support the movement as Australia moves closer to a referendum. When there is a vote a majority of people in a majority of states must vote yes to secure a change.

Recognise will be at the 2015 Garma Festival to participate in panel discussions, sign up supporters and answer questions from the public. To find the Recognise expo stall look for the “R” logo!

DHIMURRU ABORIGINAL LAND CORPORATION
Dhimurru will be launching their Land Management Plan at their exhibition stall at 10:00am on Saturday, 1 August. Come by to view our remarkable displays showcasing Dhimurru’s work over the course of the past 12 months. Dhimurru will have Ranger staff on hand for most of the time who will be more than happy to discuss our projects to manage the Dhimurru Indigenous Protected Area’s of Arnhem Land. This includes country surrounding the Garma site, extending 40km out to sea and encompassing 550,000 hectares. Dhimurru is a Yolngu organisation which employs over 20 Yolngu staff. Dhimurru is governed through our Board of Directors, elected from the numerous clan estates within the Gove Peninsula. Come by - we’ll be pleased to chat with guests of Garma.

WESTPAC BANKING CORPORATION

laysHaPuY HoMeLaNds aBoRiGinaL corPoration (lHaC)
Referred to by the locals as Laynh, our organisation is an Aboriginal owned and managed community organisation. Incorporated in 1985, Laynh supports some 30 homeland communities across North-East Arnhem Land in the Northern Territory.

Laynh is a member based association of Yolngu families. The Laynhapuy homelands are on Aboriginal land held as inalienable freehold title by the Arnhem Land Aboriginal Lands Trust under the Commonwealth Aboriginal Land Rights Act (Northern Territory) 1976.

In the early 1970’s, senior Yolngu leaders and their extended families began moving away from the mission communities and the expanding mining town, to return to their traditional clan lands around Arnhem Land. This homelands movement was a Yolngu initiative, instigated before any government support for such movements. They cleared land for airstrips and built their own houses with assistance of Ngapaki (non-Indigenous people), using timber from their land.

The clan elders aspired to determine their own future, conduct their affairs according to Yolngu law and live and raise their children on their traditional land. Their vision was to develop sustainable, self-sufficient homelands for themselves, their families and future generations. That vision is still strong and relevant today.

This year we have brought BEN, Big Ear & Nose to Garma. He has been travelling to remote communities across the Northern Territory since 2013. Approximately the length of a stretch limousine, BEN was developed by the Ear Health Team & artists Evelyn Roth & John Davis to be a larger than life interactive learning aid which allows children to walk through the ear canal, & through interactive hands-on activities, learn about the various components & functionality of the ear.

So far BEN has travelled to Alice Springs, Maningrida, Nguju, Jabiru, Wadeye & has attended high-profile events such as the launch of Close the Gap Day, the Barunga Festival, Ear Health Week, Audiology Week, a Hearing Awareness Week event at the Deck Chair Cinema & has supported Menzies’ Indigenous Capacity Building Unit to promote Indigenous Programmes within Menzies.

the northern territory government
The Northern Territory Government stall at Garma this year will have displays and staff on hand to talk about how the Government is working with Indigenous Territorians to create a sustainable and prosperous future in our remote and regional communities. Come and talk to government representatives about the exciting new approach to engagement and development under the Office of Aboriginal Affairs, and new ideas coming from emerging young Indigenous leaders through First Circles. Indigenous entrepreneurs have an opportunity to talk one-on-one about supports available to help businesses to start, run and grow through the new Business in the Bush initiative. Hear about broader work underway through the Northern Australia Development Office to diversify and grow the Territory and regional economy including in fisheries, mines and energy, primary industries and tourism.
Rio Tinto

We acknowledge the Yolngu Traditional Owners on whose land Gove Operations is situated. Our bauxite operation continues to play an important role in providing local jobs & contributing to the East Arnhem regional economy.

Rio Tinto remains committed to the East Arnhem region & is working in partnership with the Northern Territory & Australian governments to support regional economic development that will benefit the community. We are also committed to the Gove Traditional Owner Agreement & the outcomes it is delivering to Yolngu to build the capability & capacity of Indigenous businesses also remain key priorities.

Our key projects toward these aims include:

- Economic development: The establishment of Developing East Arnhem Limited, an organisation that will create, lead & attract new economic development opportunities for the East Arnhem region. This is a joint initiative of Rio Tinto & the Northern Territory Government.
- Indigenous Employment & Training: The Ralpa “get ready, get moving” programme was developed in 2012 & provides job-readiness training & pathways to employment for Yolngu people in the region. Ralpa is a partnership between Gove Operations, ALERT, Remote Jobs in communities Program, & local organisations; Dhimurru, Gumatj corporation, Marngarr & Bunuwal.
- Cross cultural awareness: Gove Operations worked with Traditional Owners, & the Gumatj Corporation, to develop a cross cultural awareness programme. Gove Operations aims to have all employees participate in this by the end of 2015.
- Cultural heritage management: Gove Operations involves Traditional Owners in the planning, implementation & management of projects & business activities which have an environmental & cultural impact. Gove Operations actively consults with Traditional Owners when undertaking an activity near a site of cultural significance & incorporates their advice into cultural heritage management plans.
- Flora & fauna management: Gove Operations continues to work closely with the Northern Territory Government & local rangers to implement management programmes for fauna & flora on the mine site. Gove operations environment department is embarking on a large scale monitoring programme at the mine to monitor the Black-footed Tree Rat.

Gove Operations has been a proud supporter of Garma Festival over a number of years. Rio Tinto is pleased to join the Yothu Yindi Foundation in welcoming everyone to this year’s event & we look forward to sharing the ideas & experiences that are unique to this event.

Gumatj Corporation Ltd

The Gumatj Corporation Ltd is the business arm of the Gumatj clan. It is based at Gunyangara and works across North East Arnhem Land.

Established in 2006 the Gumatj Corporation runs a number of businesses in North East Arnhem Land aimed at employing Yolngu people. Business units include a timber mill and processing team; a retail unit made up of a store, coffee shop and nursery; a cattle farm, abattoir and butchers shop; a construction team and a civil works team. The Gumatj Corporation also manages the Nhulunbuy Waste Facility.

In the 2014/15 financial year over 100 Yolngu people obtained paid employment with the Corporation and the average Yolngu workforce was over 60 employees per week. The Corporation seeks to increase its Yolngu workforce to an average of 100 men and women by the end of 2015.

Since the closure of the Gove Alumina Refinery the Corporation has focused on the expansion of its pastoral industry by increasing cattle numbers, improving the meat and fish processing factory and purchasing a retail butchers shop in Nhulunbuy. In addition the Corporation has plans to establish an integrated forestry project by using land within Rio Tinto Alcan’s mining lease which is subject to rehabilitation.

The employment outcomes achieved by the Corporation have seen a continued strengthening of the economic and social life of people in the region. At Gunyangara it is evident that when mothers and fathers go to work, children go to school and the family unit is strengthened. School attendance rates are at record levels at Gunyangara and the next construction project will be of much needed employee housing, especially for younger workers.

Garma is held on Gumatj land and the Corporation is once again thrilled to support the Yothu Yindi Foundation as a Principal Sponsor.

Explanations of the Gumatj Corporation Logo

The Gumatj Corporation logo is drawn from deep ceremonial motifs of the Gumatj clan.

The design is painstakingly precise: the background is maroon and blue for the waters of Port Bradshaw mixed by the sacred stingray; and, at the centre, is the anchor that symbolises the Mawindi rock, entwined with a rope that ties the Gumatj to their clan home.” The motto “Anchoring Our Future” is the logic behind the establishment of the Gumatj Corporation.
SODEXO

Sodexo has been a proud partner of the Yothu Yindi Foundation (YYF) & a platinum sponsor of Garma since 2004. Sodexo is committed to renewing its partnership with YYF by continuing as a major sponsor of Garma in 2015.

Sodexo’s contribution involves setting up the bush kitchen facilities onsite at Gulkula, preparing & serving hot, healthy & nutritious meals to up to 2,000 participants three times a day over four days, as well as, maintaining guest facilities.

Every year, we continue to improve operationally in our ability to cater for & serve the Yolngu communities & Garma guests. We have enhanced our level of organisation to support & enable our team members to participate & experience Garma outside of working in the kitchens, the dining areas & the ablution facilities.

Over the years, Sodexo’s partnership with YYF & association with Garma has helped our employees develop an understanding of the greater purpose of Garma & paving the way to a reconciled Australia. Garma 2014’s theme of Reflecting on Responsibility, Reform, Recognition provided a unique opportunity for the Sodexo volunteers to experience the rich & enduring Yolngu Aboriginal culture, to listen & learn at the Key Forum sessions & to witness the leadership role the Elders continue to play in the national Aboriginal affairs dialogue.

As Garma 2015 approaches, our relationship with YYF strengthens, with the YYF Board’s approval & in collaboration with Reconciliation Australia we will use Garma as a platform to build & nurture our relationships with our key clients & RAP partners.

We believe the unique Garma experience will help our partners unlock their true potential & contribute to the ongoing development & implementation of Sodexo’s thought leadership commitments.

Sodexo will continue to offer our diverse group of partner organisations opportunities such as this to whole-heartedly “define & commit to the future”. There is no better place for this discussion to be held than at the birthplace of Aboriginal land rights & leadership; on Yolngu country at Garma.

QANTAS

Founded in regional Queensland in 1920 – as Queensland and Northern Territory Aerial Services – Qantas is one of Australia’s most iconic brands and has played a central role in the development of the Australian and international aviation industry.

Today the Qantas Group is a diverse global aviation business, comprising Qantas Domestic, Qantas International, the Jetstar low-cost carrier group and Qantas Loyalty.

In total, the Qantas Group operates more than 7,300 flights each week & together with its codeshare & oneworld partners, offers flights to more than 1000 destinations around the world.

The Qantas Group’s fleet numbers almost 300 aircraft with an average age of around seven years – the youngest in two decades – including the acclaimed Qantas A380 and the Jetstar Boeing 787 Dreamliner.

Qantas is ranked the world’s safest airline by AirlineRatings.com, one of the top 10 airlines in the world by Skytrax, & holds many major awards for service, food & wine, technology & innovation.

The Qantas Group carries over 50 million passengers each year & employs around 29,000 people.

Qantas has long represented the sense of ‘home’ through our connection to Australia, our land & our people.

Through the perspective of Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander peoples, we appreciate their unique position as Australia’s First Peoples & the richness their cultures bring to our national identity.

We have a long standing commitment that contributes to the empowerment & celebration of Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander peoples and culture & we will continue to demonstrate leadership in this area.

Qantas is proud to continue our sponsorship of the Garma Festival & our association with the Yothu Yindi Foundation & the Yolngu people of North East Arnhem Land.
NT DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONAL SERVICES

The Northern Territory Department of Correctional Services (NTDCS) is moving forward with a strong focus on employment to help break the cycle of re-offending, having recognised that there is a direct correlation between higher levels of education & employment & lower levels of crime. Prisoner & youth detainees education & employment will be the key to our success.

To achieve this, NTDCS is working to ensure that its adult correctional centres & youth detention centres are providing appropriate work-readiness skills, literacy & numeracy education, & employment opportunities for as many prisoners as possible under the Sentenced to a Job & Seek Education or Employment not Detention (SEED) programs.

Indigenous prisoners in the NT have responded well to the Sentenced to a Job Program, as it provides skills that are useful & transferable to a wide range of work settings in the external environment, attaches prisoners to a connected network that are all focussed on the same outcome – transitioning them successfully, many for the first time, to a mainstream living experience that includes paid work & that strengthens them to avoid returning to prison.

The Government’s Indigenous Employment & Career Development Strategy 2015-20 aims to increase Indigenous employment in the NT Public Sector to 16% by 2020. Approximately 30% of the NT's population is Indigenous. As the largest employer in the NT, the NTPS is in a strong position to take the lead in improving the employment & career opportunities of Indigenous people.

The Elders Visiting Program (EVP) is a flagship program for NTDCS. It involves Indigenous Elders from remote communities travelling to adult correctional centres to meet with prisoners to maintain links with community & culture, & to discuss possible re-integration pathways.

EVP operates in all correctional centres, work camps & youth detention centres in the NT. Communities currently involved in the EVP include Tiwi Islands, Beswick, Groote Eylandt, Yuendemu, Hermansberg, Tennant Creek, Nhulunbuy, Ngukurr, Lajamanu, Kalkarindji, Borroloola & Katherine.

NTDCS again looks forward to another fantastic festival in 2015 & working closely with the Yothu Yindi Foundation.

SEA SWIFT

SeaSwift is the leader in shipping across regional and remote northern Australia. With 30+ vessels and 8 strategically located depots including Nhulunbuy SeaSwift is capable of handling all your logistics requirements. With an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander workforce participation rate of 18% SeaSwift is committed to the economic advancement of all peoples in northern Australia. If you need freight moved or are looking for an opportunity for a career contact us today.

Seaswift provided YYF with freight and barge assistance to stage Garma, we look forward yet again to another exciting Garma event.

TELSRA

Like many other major businesses, we are proud of our long-standing commitment to Indigenous Australians - as customers, employees and community members. As Australia’s leading telecommunications and information services company, we help our customers improve the ways in which they live and work through connection. We believe the more connected people are, the more opportunities they have. That’s why we help create brilliant connected futures for everyone. Connection underpins our Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) which defines our commitment to connect Indigenous customers and communities, in particular in remote Australia, to affordable, innovative and accessible products and services. It also underpins our community investments which are focussed on digital inclusion, that is, ensuring all Australians are able to enjoy the benefits of being connected to digital communication technologies. Our partnership with the National Centre of Indigenous Excellence (NCIE) to create the Indigenous Digital Excellence (IDX) Initiative and our work with the MJD Foundation to scale their digital program across Arnhem Land amplify this. Similarly, the Garma Festival is also about connection. Connection to each other, to ideas, conversations and to a beautiful part of the world. It also provides a time to reflect on our unique opportunity, as a nation, to recognise Indigenous Australians, after all this time, as the first inhabitants of this land. That’s why Telstra actively supports the work of RECOGNISE – the movement to recognise Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in the constitution.

THE TELSTRA CONNECT STATION - CHARGING AND PRE-PAID SIMS IS AVAILABLE AT THE GARMA TICKETING OFFICE

MIWATJ HEALTH

Miwatj Health Aboriginal Corporation was established in 1992. It is an independent Aboriginal-controlled health services administered by a Board of Directors representing communities across East Arnhem Land.

Miwatj Health has its administrative base in the town of Nhulunbuy. Our clinics are located in Nhulunbuy, Gunyangara, Galiwinku, and Yirrkala, providing a walk-in services for all acute and preventive care needs. In addition to these fixed clinics, our outreach teams provide a regular visiting service to a number of nearby communities including Birritjimi, Galupa, Gunyangara, Garrathiya Plans, Yirrkala and within the Galiwinku community.

Miwatj Health’s mission is to improve the health and well being of residents of the communities of east Arnhem Land through the delivery of appropriate and comprehensive primary health care and to promote the control by Aboriginal communities of primary health care resources.

The Miwatj Health Clinic is provided for minor health treatment, and we will be open over the course of Garmas four days.
The Northern Territory Government is proud to be a principal sponsor of the 2015 Garma Festival, Walpa Dalkuma: Building Our Future, Strengthening Our Lives as part of its FestivalsNT initiative.

Having proudly supported Garma for many years, the Northern Territory Government applauds the important role Garma plays in celebrating and sharing the rich culture of Yolngu.

An important Indigenous cultural event that provides an invaluable insight into Yolngu culture, Garma also fosters a greater understanding between indigenous and non-Indigenous Australians not only in Northeast Arnhem Land, but throughout the country and internationally.

Developing a confident culture that promotes recognition and respect for Aboriginal people, organisations, and language is a major strategic goal of the Northern Territory Government.

Garma has been a successful model for self-determination, reconciliation and Indigenous knowledge sharing for many years and will continue to be an important part of the annual FestivalsNT calendar of events.

The Territory Government, through its FestivalsNT initiative, proudly supports Garma and the economic opportunities it provides for Yolngu through education, training, employment, enterprise and remote Indigenous community development.

A three year $6 million Business in the Bush program was announced as part of Budget 2015. This program will address employment priorities identified by Territorians in the bush and rural communities.

The aim of the Business in the Bush package is to provide sustainable job opportunities and grow and strengthen business enterprise.

Later this year, the Northern Territory Government will also be hosting one of the largest Indigenous economic development events the 7th Indigenous Economic Development Forum in Alice Springs from 18-20 October. These forums provide an opportunity for people from a diverse range of backgrounds to come together and advance sustainable outcomes for Indigenous Territorians.

Recognise is the movement to have Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples recognised in the Australian Constitution and to ensure there is no place in it for racial discrimination.

Over 246,000 people have signed up to support the movement as Australia moves closer to a referendum. When there is a vote a majority of people in a majority of states must vote yes to secure a change.

Recognise will be at the 2015 Garma Festival to participate in panel discussions, sign up supporters and answer questions from the public. To find the Recognise expo stall look for the “R” logo!

The Australian Indigenous Education Foundation (AIEF) is a private sector-led, non-profit organisation focused on empowering Indigenous children to build a brighter future for themselves and for the nation.

AIEF provides scholarships which enable Indigenous students to attend some of Australia’s best schools and universities, as well as mentoring and career support to ensure students make a successful transition from school to further studies or employment, productive careers and fulfilling lives.

At the 2014 Garma Festival the Yothu Yindi Foundation announced a partnership with AIEF that will assist the development of the foundation’s Education Hub.

The partnership enables the Yothu Yindi Foundation to draw on the knowledge and expertise of AIEF’s network of Partner Schools and Colleges to support the Garma Institute and the planned secondary college and residential school at Gulkula, Dhupuma College.

In the years ahead, the partnership with the Yothu Yindi Foundation will enable AIEF to support the education of a greater number of students from North-East Arnhem Land.
FESTIVAL INFORMATION

Site Access
Garma commences on the morning of Friday, 31 July and concludes the night of Monday, 3 August, 2014. The event site opens to the public at 10:00 am, 30 July and closes to the Public at 10:30 am on Tuesday, 4 August.

Climate
Generally speaking, it is traditionally fine, rain-free and sunny. The days are quite warm (tops of around 31°C) and evenings can be cool (down to around 15°C). We have previously experienced heavy dew, fog in the mornings and the odd sprinkle of light rain. Remember to zip up your tent properly when leaving it, to avoid sharing your bed with creepy crawlies, and prevent your belongings getting damp. It is essential to keep up a high fluid intake (plain water is best) to avoid dehydration (particularly important if you have been in transit and travelling from southern states) and it is advisable to wear a broad-brimmed hat to guard against sunburn.

Mosquitoes
To avoid mosquitoes, wear repellents and cover up at dusk. Generally speaking, there are not many mosquitoes but you may wish to bring a mosquito net, as individual reactions to bites vary.

Shopping
At Garma you will have the opportunity to purchase various goods from the General Store, Merchandise Stand, Gapan Gallery and the Garma café (see site map for location of each). Be aware that there are no ATM’s at Garma. Whilst we may have limited EFTPOS facilities for credit card transactions we strongly urge guests to pre-empt their spending habits and bring cash to suffice.

Medical and First Aid
A St John’s First Aid service is available onsite. Any serious conditions will need to be referred to the Nhulunbuy hospital. Please advise the organisers if you have any special needs or conditions.

Recordings and Photographs of Garma
It is a condition of entry to Garma that all registered Garma participants agree to the terms outlined in the Deed of Agreement to Make a Record, a document that specifies that it is not permissible to publish images of Yolngu individuals and families without permission. This is a legally binding document which prevents the Yolngu people, their culture, their art, their lifestyle from being utilised for commercial profit for purposes not aligned with the values and priorities of the Yothu Yindi Foundation. This policy has been developed out of respect for the Yolngu clans and their families and it enables them to maintain control, for protocol and cultural sensitivity reasons, of the public use of images.

Alcohol and other drugs
Garma is an alcohol and drug free event. Alcohol and drugs are strictly not permitted on the Gulkula site where Garma is held. Alcohol is also banned at Yirrkala, Gunyangara & Birritjimi. Penalties for taking alcohol and other drugs into restricted areas can be severe. We need your help and assistance by honouring the way we manage our event. The Yothu Yindi Foundation prides itself on delivering our event in an alcohol and drug free environment.

Behaviour
At Garma, you are requested to observe and work within Yolngu protocols. Remember Garma is held on Gumatj land and the traditional land owners have warmly welcomed you onto their land. Yolngu perceptions, priorities and preoccupations are different from those of mainstream Australia. Be patient, and try to leave at home your expectations of how things are learnt, and how events should run. Traditionally Yolngu learn by observation, by looking and listening. Asking too many questions can be inappropriate. So, when you have questions, choose them carefully and pose them thoughtfully. Diplomacy goes a long way here in Arnhemland.
Respect Yolngu people’s personal space, particularly in the camping areas and each individual guest’s tent. Sticking to the walking paths provided is important to ensure you’re not stumbling into and imposing on cultural space. Avoid strolling around and visiting Yolngu campsites unless specifically invited and accompanied by your Yolngu host.

Please exercise courtesy and sensitivity when taking photographs – seek the permission of the subjects.

If taking close-ups, or photographs of small groups, particularly in the women’s programs and men’s programs cultural and health sessions.

Visitators should NOT leave the Gulkula site by themselves and should only walk along specifically marked event trails. This is about showing respect for land and is also a safety issue for event organisers. Wild buffalo wander this country and organisers spend considerable effort in monitoring their trails prior to Garma each year.

Treat the old people with the greatest of respect – they hold the knowledge and the power.

Please be conscious that dress standards may often vary from what is considered acceptable at your home. By dressing conservatively you will avoid the possibility of causing offence. Too much skin on display draws inadvertent attention not appropriate for this event. Schools attending the festival should advise their students of this policy. Our dress standards also protect our participants from sunburn, sunstroke and dehydration. Plan a sensible wardrobe, practical and covered shoes and include a hat to protect you from the elements.

Camping

Garma is intended to be a camping experience and the site at Gulkula is well established with facilities to make your stay as comfortable as possible. We encourage you to stay with us during your visit. By staying on site at Gulkula, you will have a greater opportunity to experience Garma, and its special character, purpose and essence.

Meals

For registered guests Garma is fully catered, with three main meals a day. Vegetarian, vegans and coeliac options will be available for each meal. Please let catering staff know if you have food allergies, so that we can help you identify a meal that is safe for your consumption. There are two kitchen/dining areas at Garma and all guests are welcome to use either. Tip- Avoid queue’s at the main dining hall by heading over to the dining area by the Yolngu camp ground.

Toilets and Showers

There are several amenities blocks around the site with toilets and hot showers. Refer to site map for location. Note there are no laundry facilities onsite. Use water sensibly, you are remote.

Emergency Evacuation

In the event of an emergency please make your way to the emergency assembly area located on the bunggul grounds. At all times listen to the instructions of the Garma crew and follow their direction. Do not leave the Garma boundaries - event organisers need to know where you are.

Community Open Day

On Sunday, August 2, Garma is open to the local people of Nhulunbuy. Meal vouchers will be available for purchase from the registration office for $20. Our local guests are also welcome to pack a picnic for the day!

Mobile Phones and Electronic devices

Those wishing to use electronic devices during Garma:

- There is Telstra mobile coverage at the Garma site, and very limited Optus coverage. Telstra will be providing a mobile charging station and pre-paid SIMs for guests attending Garma, you will find Telstra at the Garma ticketing office. Ask our friendly staff for advice, and they’ll point you in the right direction.
- We encourage guests to switch their devices to flight mode whilst at Garma to extend battery life.
- Multiple power outlets are also located at the Garma ticketing office.
- Garma staff cannot assume responsibility for any devices left unattended. We ask guests to respect other guests’ property.
- As power outlets are always in high demand at Garma, we anticipate that guests will sometimes need to wait for an outlet to become available. To avoid disappointment we encourage guests to charge their devices during quiet periods such as early morning or later in the evening.

Lost and Found

Lost and found items can be located in the ticketing office. For the more valuable items, event organisers may have secured safely the item you’ve lost. Ask at the ticketing office, as our friendly staff may be holding your lost product for safe keeping.

The Garma App

Have you downloaded the Garma app yet? To keep abreast of program changes or new announcements - make sure you’ve downloaded the Garma app. Connect your family so they can follow your footsteps in Arnhemland. Failing that, also refer to the notice board in the main kitchen for changes, or new announcements.
As a member of the Media RING (Reconciliation Industry Network Group), SKY NEWS is committed to the development of career opportunities, raising awareness and sharing knowledge for Indigenous Australians in the media. This includes participation in mentoring, training and job creation of Indigenous journalists through the Indigenous Employment Programs (IEP), as well as participation with AIME (Australian Indigenous Mentoring Experience) and the AIEF (Australian Indigenous Education Foundation).

Committed to engaging in Indigenous affairs, SKY NEWS provided support and training in the formation of National Indigenous Television News (NITV).

SKY NEWS continues to invest in Indigenous journalism with a dedicated Bureau in Darwin led by NT Bureau Chief and National Indigenous Affairs Correspondent Dan Bourchier, covering Indigenous issues and events nationally including Reconciliation Week and NAIDOC.

SKY NEWS launched in Australia in February 1996 becoming the first Australian-produced television news channel. Owned and operated by Australian News Channel Pty Ltd (ANC), a joint venture company of Nine Entertainment Company, Seven West Media and British Sky Broadcasting, its news services have grown to include SKY NEWS LIVE, SKY NEWS Business, SKY NEWS Weather, SKY NEWS Multiview, A-PAC Australia’s Public Affairs Channel and SKY NEWS New Zealand. On January 26, 2015 broadcast boundaries were extended to include the new Australia Channel service catering for international markets.

The leading 24-hour multi-channel, multi-platform news service, SKY NEWS produces award-winning and agenda-setting news and current affairs programs including PVO NewsDay, PM Agenda with David Speers, Paul Murray LIVE and Reporting LIVE with Stan Grant. In 2015 SKY NEWS was awarded Channel of the Year at the ASTRA Awards.
